

Carol Dickson Fisher works as a data specialist at the National Archives in Kew, currently as a Senior Dotnet Developer in Digital Services and previously as a Senior Database Administrator.

She completed the Certificate in Accountancy with the Open University about 10 years ago. More recently she attained an Advanced Diploma in Accountancy with the AAT (Association of Accounting Technicians) and have AATQB ((AAT Qualified Bookkeeper). She is now working towards the AAT's Professional Diploma in Accountancy.

She also has two masters' degrees - in geophysics and in computer science, plus a Ph.D. in micropalaeontology

