

Dr Marvin Formosa is Senior Lecturer and Head of the Department of Gerontology, Faculty for Social Wellbeing, University of Malta. His key interests are critical gerontology, sociology of later life, social class dynamics and educational gerontology, on which he has published seven books and various chapters in edited volumes and peer-reviewed journals. In 2009 he was appointed Visiting Scholar at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education of the University of Toronto for one academic year.

Marvin holds the post of Chairperson of the National Commission for Active Ageing (Malta) and is Director of the International Institute on Ageing, United Nations - Malta (INIA). He has headed United Nations' missions in the People's Republic of China, the Philippines, India, and Turkey.

